

Tax Senior/Manager

Location: Belfast

Salary: Negotiable

About the job

Finegan Gibson Ltd is a rapidly growing practice based on James Street South in Belfast. We provide audit, accountancy, tax and advisory services to a diverse client base and have developed a particular niche in the charity sector.

All of our service lines are experiencing strong growth and we would like to facilitate this growth by recruiting a tax senior/manager to play a leading role in an expansion in the range of tax services we offer to our clients.

In this role you would get the opportunity to work in other areas such as audit, accounts preparation and general advisory services. Your work would change throughout the year so this position would suit an individual that seeks variety in their work.

We have a strong team of 15-20 staff and we place significant importance in creating a working environment which is professional but relaxed. Excellent team spirit and job satisfaction are key objectives that we seek to achieve by being flexible and supportive of our team.

The role is primarily based in Belfast, however some flexibility in relation to travel will be expected to serve our clients across Northern Ireland.

This is an exciting opportunity for you to take a leadership role in a growing firm with excellent progression opportunities.

About the role

The key aspects of the role would include:

- Managing the varied tax requirements of a portfolio of private clients and businesses with whom you would directly liaise
- Ensuring tax compliance matters are dealt with within statutory deadlines
- Driving the expansion of our tax service enabling us to offer more 'value-added' tax planning advice to our clients
- Being proactive in terms of identifying opportunities our clients could benefit from
- Managing and assisting in non-tax engagements such as audits and accounts preparation
- Managing a team of motivated individuals and monitoring performance on engagements
- Reporting directly to Finegan Gibson's Directors

- Being a key member of management helping to continue our growth and shaping the future direction of the firm

Essential criteria

- ACA qualified or equivalent
- Experience of management of a portfolio of tax clients
- Experience of compliance management across the various taxes
- The ability to be proactive in identifying tax planning opportunities
- Strong inter personal skills and a history of being client's point of contact
- Excellent communication skills
- Team player

Desirable criteria

CTA qualified

Diversity

Finegan Gibson is an equal opportunities employer and welcome applications from all suitably qualified persons regardless of their race, sex, disability, religion/belief, sexual orientation or age